France the feeling on the part of consumers has run very high on account of the prevailing belief that the advance is caused by a combina tion of refiners who have determined to enrich themselves at the expense of the people. Frenchmen are just beginning to take their first lessons in the beneficence of trusts, a subject in which the American public have by this time become quite well informed. But on this sugar question France is already thoroughly awake to

THE DANGER OF COMBINATIONS. The wail of the frugal housewife is loud enough to be heard in the chamber of deputies. where, in the course of a speech, M. Laur pointed out that the price of sugars had risen iffy-four per cent. The production of sugar in Europe, he said, far from showing a falling off, exhibited an increase of 200,000 tons over last year. The present rise in prices was due to the action of a culpable speculative combination, and he demanded that the governwere Mrs. and Miss Waite, Justice and Mrs. ment deal with it unmercifully. He had been told by many workingmen, he said, that if the prices of sugars were not very speedily reduced

they would break into the sugar refineries and help themselves. THIS STATEMENT CAUSED GREAT EXCITEMENT in the chamber, and for a time it was difficult to preserve order. M. Thevenet, minister of justice replied: "I am surprised that such a the bride donned a dark traveling dress where the law is equal for all alike." ter from the right.] M. Thevenet explained that the government could not deal with a rise of prices unless produced by fraudulent means. The government, he said, is keeping a close watch on what is going on, and if it deteets anything in the shape of a fraudulent coalition it will act with unflinching severity. This statement was gretted with applause.

HUMAN VULTURES.

An Attempt to Take Advantage Young Female Sufferers.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 5.—At the Second Presbyterian church relief rooms last night the ladies who were attending to the wants of the sufferers were startled at the presence among erly tendered their assistance in relieving the wants of the half-famished and homeless strangers. Their assistance was promptly declined, and a suspicion of their motives aroused an investigation was instituted, resulting in the astounding discovery that at several stations between John stown and this city curesses had stepped aboard trains and at once sought the acquaintance of many of the younger lady passengers whose pretty faces and forms for the time being was a misfortune. The "ladies" explanation of their solicitous interest in the unfortunates was that they would be at once provided with comfortable homes in their "families." Hereafter the Pennsylvania railspecial trains only, which will make no stops, thus frustrating the evil designs of these human vultures.

Chicaso, June 5.—A dispatch from Shawano, Wis., says: "Another robbery has been committed by a highwayman. He is supposed to be the same one who has been robbing the mails in this county and who also went through a train on the Milwankee and Northern road last week. He appeared in Bondnell, a town of this county, yesterday and entered the store of Solomon Kahn. Kahn was busy at his desk when the fellow slipped up, leveled a revolver, and told him to hand over all the money he had, which he did to the amount of $100. The robber then left the store, and finding a farmer's team at the door unhitched it and started off. The owner of the team protested and the robber shot at him twice and then drove off. A large crowd are in pursuit of him.

Big Byrne, of St. Alevsius, was also heard in the splendid service. The Kyrie Eleison, Credo, and Gloria in Excelsis wore rendered in a masterful manner. The service lasted one hour and the fine church was crowded to its fullest capacity. Among the guests from a distance were Mrs. Ives, the mother of the groom, and her sisters, Mrs. Semmes Fitzgerald and Mrs. Clarke, of New York city; Commissioner Gibbons, of New York, and Lieut. Woodbury, U. S. A. Mrs. Thos. E. Waggaman wore a gown of pale pink between the left the store, and finding a farmer's team at the door unhitched it and started off.
